When using our website, www.progressio-fourcentric.com, cookies are placed on your device. Cookies are simple text files stored by your browser on your computer, tablet or smartphone that contain information. The website instructs the browser you use to view websites to store these cookies on your computer. When you visit one of our websites for the first time, we will ask you to allow cookies. If you do not want to, you can refuse cookies that are not necessary for the operation of our websites or block them via your web browser, unless we have a legitimate interest in using them. Most parts of our websites will then remain readable.

The cookies we use are different in nature and therefore collect different data about you, such as your browser type, IP address, date and time of your visit or data about the device you use to visit our website. The data that we collect through the use of cookies cannot be (directly) traced back to you. We will also not (actively) compare these data with other data at our disposal to establish your identity. This cookie statement informs you about the different categories of cookies we use. However, we would like to point out that our websites also uses cookies that may share your personal data with third parties. It is not excluded that third parties identify you and link certain data to you. For this we advise you to consult the privacy and cookie declarations of the third parties concerned.

The website uses three types of cookies:

1. Functional Cookies

Functional cookies are necessary for our websites to function properly. These cookies are used to make the websites more user-friendly by tracking visitor behavior and storing certain preferences.

- Functional cookies we use: - None

2. Analytical cookies

These cookies are used to keep statistics on the use of our websites. These types of cookies enable to measure, for example, how many visitors come to the websites, where they come from and which pages are visited.

- Analytical cookies we use: None

3. Tracking cookies

Tracking cookies are cookies that are used to gain more insight into your preferences and interests. By enabling these cookies, the ads you see can be tailored to your personal preferences and interests and the ads shown to you can be optimized.
